

University of Alberta Edmonton

The University of Alberta Faculty of Nursing invites applications for both the Master of Nursing (MN) and PhD programs.

The aim of the MN program is to prepare nurses to function as advanced-level practitioners in hospitals, community and/or educational settings. Student programs are designed on an individual basis within the MN curriculum framework. A thesis is required of all students. A Certificate in Nurse-Midwifery or an Advanced Neonatal Certificate may be taken in conjunction with the MN program. A minor in Nursing Administration is also available. Students are admitted into the program in January and September (application deadlines October 1 and July 1, respectively).

The PhD in Nursing program prepares nurses for leadership roles in practice, education and research, as well as advancing nursing knowledge through identification of nursing phenomena and the development and testing of nursing theory. The number and types of courses included in the program will vary according to the individual needs of the student. Students are admitted in September and should have applications submitted by December 15 in order to be considered for scholarships. The faculty offers a variety of clinical, educational, and research resources. Graduate Assistantship opportunities are available for both MN and PhD students.

INFORMATION FOR AUTHORS

The Canadian Journal of Nursing Research welcomes original research having relevance to nursing and health care. It also publishes methodological articles, articles about research, short commentaries, responses and book reviews. The CJNR occasionally publishes theoretical articles of a high scholarly standard that are judged to be of interest to the readership.

Although manuscripts accepted come from a variety of research traditions, their relevance to Nursing in Canada should be evident. Their form and content should invite a wide readership, and they should offer arguments with clearly marked premises, inferences and conclusions.

Procedure: Please submit three double-spaced copies of the manuscript on 8" x 11" paper (216 x 279mm). Include a covering letter giving the name, address, and present affiliation of the author(s). Manuscripts may be written in either English or French and must be accompanied by an abstract of 100-150 words, written in the opposite language. To ensure blind review, manuscripts must not reveal their author's identity; authors are asked to place references to their own work on a separate sheet.

Manuscripts should be sent to: Managing Editor, The Canadian Journal of Nursing Research, School of Nursing, McGill University, 3506 University Street, Montreal, Quebec, Canada, H3A 2A7.

Style and Format: This publication uses an adaptation of the style described in the Publication Manual of the American Psychological Association (3rd edition): submissions (including references) must conform with this format. Figures and tables should appear only when absolutely necessary, and figures must be in camera-ready form. Manuscripts should not exceed 6000 words, references and tables included.

Ethics: Before manuscripts are considered for review, authors must confirm that they have not already been published, are not now in press or under consideration elsewhere and will not be submitted elsewhere while under consideration by this journal. Authors assign copyright to the The Canadian Journal of Nursing Research upon submission of a manuscript to this journal. In the event that the article is not recommended for publication, copyright is returned.

Electronic Copy: This journal is produced electronically. All manuscripts take the form of computer diskette files in the final stages of publication. Authors must provide satisfactory electronic files of the accepted, final version of the manuscript. The CJNR re-formats the computer files for production.

The CJNR accepts the following electronic text: Nota Bene, WordPerfect or MicroSoft Word/Work files (any version), IBM or MAC; DOS ASCII or DCA files; MAC "text only" files; and files transmitted via BitNet. The cost of "translating" electronic files that are unreadable on the CJNR equipment into a readable format will be paid by the author.

Manuscript Review: Manuscripts submitted to the journal are assessed anonymously by at least two members of the Review Board, using the following criteria:

Publication Information: On initial receipt of the manuscript, the author is advised that the editorial board's response will be forwarded within ten weeks. When a manuscript is returned for revision, three copies of the revised manuscript (dated and marked 'revised'), together with the file(s) on diskette, should be returned to the managing editor within four weeks.

Lorsqu'un manuscrit est renvoyé à son auteur pour qu'il le remanie, trois exemplaires dudit manuscrit remanié (daté et portant l'inscription "revu et corrigé") doivent être renvoyés à la rédactrice en chef dans les quatre semaines. Les modalités complètes de lecture, de remaniement, d'édition, de composition et d'imprimerie expliquent qu'il s'écoule souvent de six à huit mois avant qu'un article soumis soit publié.
